5th October 2010 Newsletter

Harvest Festival

We are now ready and prepared for our Harvest Festival tomorrow and thank you for the gifts which have been brought into school. Each year group will participate in poetry, song or dance and we are very pleased that Rev'd Stephen Liley will be giving an address to children and families.

As our school is growing please could I ask that no more than two people attend from each family attend due to limited space. I also ask that parents bringing small children sit at the side in case they become noisy and need to be taken out! Buggies can be left outside the main entrance.

Collection and Delivery of Children

When the children leave the balcony at the end of the day to meet you please can you keep a careful eye on them. We are worried that some children are charging off with their friends, unaware of the dangers of the driveway and the busy road. Once the children leave the balcony we can no longer take responsibility for them.

Bedtime Story
Thursday, 14th October at 6.00pm

Next week will be our Book Week. As part of this, the staff would like, after the success of last year, to invite your children to a 'Bedtime Story' evening from 6.00-6.45pm dressed in their pyjamas (children and staff), together with teddy, pillow, blanket if they wish! Teachers will meet the children in their classroom where they will enjoy a bedtime story together and will then be served with hot chocolate and brownies. (plain biscuits and water will be available to those children with allergies)

Whilst the children are enjoying their bedtime story parents may return home or remain in school as we shall also be holding a book exchange for parents in the hall. Parents are invited to bring along up to five books and exchange these for the equivalent number.

We do hope that you will be able to participate in this very informal, but enjoyable occasion. Please would you return the slip below to your child's class teacher by Friday if your child wants to joins us.
